
WIOA Eligibility Policy

Purpose:

This policy provides guidance to ensure all WIOA Adult, Dislocated Worker, Youth and TANF Youth program participants who receive funded services are eligible for and enrolled in the WIOA or TANF Youth program. This policy also discusses self-sufficiency as it relates to WIOA eligibility. Participants who want to appeal their eligibility determination will find information at the end of this policy.

Audience:

- Title I Provider staff
- TANF Youth Development Program Staff
- NWPA Job Connect Board Staff
- PA CareerLink® staff

Background:

Under WIOA, adults, dislocated workers, and youth who receive services funded under WIOA Title I must be registered into the program. (This does not include self-service or information-only activities). Registration is the process for collecting information to support a determination of eligibility.

The TANF Youth Development Program requires enrollment for eligibility purposes.

One of WIOA's main purposes is to increase economic self-sufficiency through workforce development activities. The end goal is to enable participation in the local economy through meaningful employment and a sustainable income that provides economic self-sufficiency.

Data Validation and Eligibility Determination:

Source Documentation: Title I staff must maintain acceptable source documentation for the data elements identified in the PA WIOA Common Measures Data Validation Guide. Documents must be uploaded in CWDS and maintained in participant files.

Verification before program participation: Title I staff must verify eligibility prior to the provision of services as indicated under federal and state statute and regulations.

- Limit data collection to items required for eligibility rather than requiring submission of all documentation necessary for data validation purposes. Staff should request the additional documentation after intake and initial service provision.

Verification and Documentation:

- Verification and Documentation are related but distinct parts of the eligibility determination and data validation process.
- Verification- confirm eligibility requirements through examination of documents via relevant websites, direct communication with representatives of authorized agencies, or other authorized methods.
- Documentation-maintain physical evidence, which is obtained during the verification process, in CWDS or paper file.
- Preferred methods of Verification- workforce staff should make all reasonable efforts to obtain the most reliable form of verification available without delaying enrollment or the provision of services. When multiple methods are available, the following hierarchy reflects the preferred order:
 - Hard documentation
 - Document inspection
 - Telephone verification
 - Self-attestation

Note: An individual who chooses not to share a Social Security Number cannot be denied services. Staff should follow available guidance in the CWDS Help Center.

Methods of verifying eligibility:

Self-Attestation: Also referred to as an applicant statement- occurs when an individual states his or her status for a particular data element, such as “runaway youth,” and then signs and dates a form acknowledging this status. The key elements for self-attestation are:

- The individual identifying his or her status for permitted elements; and
- Signing and dating a form attesting to this self-identification

Self-Certification: A viable source for documenting eligibility which helps enroll individuals in a timelier manner.

- If self-certification is used, a rationale must be provided via case notes describing that no other verification method is possible.

- For a list of items that may be verified with self-certification, see the PA Data Validation Guide in the CWDS Help Desk. Also, refer to the WIOA Application dropdown menus for each eligibility item.
- Basic Skills Deficient may not be self-certified under any program, as there are specific definitions and guidelines regarding this barrier.
- The Statement of Family Size and Income may not be used to verify Low Income status since Low Income Status is no longer an allowable element for verification through self-attestation.
- Work Authorization cannot be verified using self-attestation.
- A blanket self-attestation cannot be used.

Telephone Verification

- NWPA Job Connect in accordance with the PA Department of Labor and Industry allows for the use of telephone verification to verify eligibility, especially in consideration of individuals with barriers to employment.
- Title I staff may verify criteria through phone calls with recognized governmental or social service agencies.
- Information must be verified and recorded on the Telephone/Document Inspection Verification Form found in the CWDS Help section. The completed form must be uploaded into CWDS.
- Information must be adequate to enable a monitor to refer to the verifying agency.

Primary Eligibility Review:

- The Title I staff must review and sign off on all registration paperwork, including eligibility documentation.
- Acceptable documentation to verify eligibility can be found in the WIOA Data Element and Acceptable Eligibility Verification Guide, as well as the PA Data Validation Guide found in the Help section of CWDS.

Secondary Eligibility Review:

- This process ensures the accuracy and appropriateness of eligibility determination and helps reduce the risk of disallowed costs.
- The Title I provider will assign staff to review WIOA applications and eligibility documents.
- The reviewer must ensure the uploaded documents in CWDS represent the eligibility element, and the application is complete and accurate.
- The reviewer must complete the secondary eligibility review document and upload the signed document into CWDS.
- A case note must be entered into CWSD indicating the results of the secondary eligibility review.

Random Sampling Methodology:

NWPA Job Connect staff perform fiscal and programmatic monitoring reviews of all subcontracted WIOA programs to include inspection of participant eligibility. Based on previous experience, NWPA Job Connect estimates that less than 1% of participants report incorrect information when self-attesting. To ensure validity of self-attested data, NWPA Job Connect will use a 90% confidence interval and a 5% margin of error.

Reviews will include a random sampling of enrolled participants for eligibility confirmation.

1. The random sample will be pulled from the Participation Report within CWDS.
2. See chart below for sample size based on participation numbers. This is measured by funding stream and not by individual provider.
 - a. When applicable, cases from each county and case manager will be reviewed.
3. Sampling will consider previous monitoring reviews to eliminate duplication of reviewed cases.
4. Eligibility will be reviewed from the sample cases for use of self-attestation.
 - a. Eligibility will be examined to determine whether the participant would be eligible through other provided documents.
 - b. Case notes will be reviewed to ensure service providers made attempts to obtain eligibility documents during the application process.
 - c. If it is determined that case notes are insufficient resulting in questions regarding eligibility, service providers may be required to obtain and provide additional supporting documentation for the self-attested item.

Note: If more than 10% of examined participants are found to be ineligible, NWPA WDB will take corrective action, including providing technical assistance to program services contractors using self-certification as a form of eligibility.
